Life SKILLS 101

The teen years are a challenging time for both youth and parents. This can particularly be intensified by high-risk behaviors and substance abuse. These difficulties can lead to life-long consequences when not addressed. All teens and families struggle with family conflict and trauma.

This class will teach the youth how to cope with life, make informed choices, and set goals for a successful future. Skills for life don't just happen, they have to be taught and learned.
